Made to Last. Made to Matter.

Porcela™ is a new generation of porcelain steel work surfaces, engineered to perform beautifully over time. Exclusively from MooreCo, Porcela combines the durability of steel with the resilience and refinement of porcelain to create a surface that resists wear, supports well-being, and reduces waste through exceptional longevity. Designed for high-use environments and thoughtful spaces alike, Porcela delivers a cleaner, calmer, more sustainable surface, one that works as hard as the people who use it, today and for years to come.

Porcela™ is available on select tables and desks and comes standard with charcoal edge band.

Butcher Block Work Surface

A solid wood butcher block work surface brings warmth, durability, and timeless style to hands-on environments. Naturally strong and impact-resistant, it stands up to daily making, building, and experimenting while offering a smooth, comfortable surface to work on. Real wood adds character and sophistication to maker and science spaces, making it equally at home in educational or professional settings. Available in select sizes and paired with select table bases, it's a functional, flexible solution that works hard and looks good doing it.
