How MooreCo Supports the Six Facets of Thrive in Soft Seating Design:

Physical: "I Can Move & Fit"

Soft seating designed with flexibility and comfort in mind allows people to move naturally, shift posture, and settle into spaces that support the body throughout the day. Modular seating, mobile elements, integrated tables, and adaptable layouts create environments that accommodate a variety of users, activities, and settings with ease.

Intellectual: "I Can Think & Engage"

Thoughtfully designed soft seating environments support focus, creativity, and collaboration. Flexible configurations encourage brainstorming, conversation, quiet reflection, or active teamwork, adapting easily to changing needs throughout the day. Whether used for learning, working, gathering, or recharging, these spaces help people stay engaged and inspired.

Social-Emotional: "I Belong & Connect"

Welcoming lounge settings and collaborative seating arrangements help foster meaningful interaction and a stronger sense of community. Soft seating creates approachable, human-centered environments where people feel comfortable connecting, sharing ideas, and spending time together. These spaces are designed to make everyone feel included, supported, and at ease.

Psychological: "I Feel Safe & Supported"

Comfortable furnishings, calming materials, and thoughtfully planned spaces help create a sense of stability and emotional well-being. Soft textures, intentional layouts, and inviting forms reduce stress and encourage relaxation, helping people feel more comfortable, confident, and supported in their environment.

Moral: "I Feel Included & Respected"

Inclusive design principles ensure spaces are accessible, adaptable, and welcoming to a wide range of users and needs. Flexible seating options, varied configurations, and intentional space planning support equity, dignity, and belonging, helping create environments where everyone feels valued and respected.

Spiritual: "I Can Breathe, Reflect & Recharge"

Soft seating environments offer moments of pause within the rhythm of everyday life. Calming palettes, organic shapes, and residential comfort cues create spaces that encourage reflection, restoration, and emotional balance. Inspired by the restorative qualities of nature and hospitality, these environments help people feel grounded, relaxed, and renewed.

Coradle™ Healthcare Family

Before a space feels safe, it has to feel like an embrace.

The Coradle healthcare collection is a complete furniture system for pediatric waiting rooms, family lounges, and clinical spaces, designed to put children at ease and parents at peace. Coradle was born from the powerful concept of comfort brought by the embrace of a caring parent or loved one, guided by our Thrive Design Philosophy.

Coradle's design includes soft, scaled seating forms that support play, choice, and self-directed comfort while the layered seating allows adults and children to experience comfort and proximity. Tables provide sturdy anchors for activities, perimeter pieces add flexible support, and free-standing screens help define zones for privacy and decompression while maintaining visibility and family connection.

Unlike traditional healthcare furniture designed to control behavior, Coradle is designed to transform the experience of care. It brings ease to clinical spaces by giving children room to explore, families a place to gather, and caregivers the opportunity to engage—creating environments that feel less like waiting rooms and more like places of comfort, connection, and trust.
